Ambulance service contract renewed in split vote

By Mike Finch

Ground broken for new Morning Pointe Assisted Living

Morning Pointe officials are joined by Essex County and Essex Hill City officials in breaking ground for a new 80-resident Assisted Living and Memory Care facility that Portland-based Morning Pointe will open in the fall of next year. The company operates seventeen skilled living facilities in Tennessee including one in Center City and two in Hill Ridge near the Tennessee Hospital on Emory Road.

By Mike Finch

Nearly 100 people attended the groundbreaking ceremony Tuesday for the new Morning Pointe Assisted Living and Memory Care Center in Hill Ridge. The new Essex County facility, located on Emory Road, will open next fall. The company operates seventeen skilled living facilities in Tennessee including one in Center City and two in Hill Ridge near the Tennessee Hospital on Emory Road.

Excellence and Seniors 400 spaces were

Mike Long, the vice president of Morning Pointe Assisted Living, said the company operates seven in Middle Tennessee, three in Center City and in Tullahoma near the Tennessee Hospital.

After a brief ceremony, the groundbreaking was in Patricia Blackburn, Hill Ridge Chamber Center City Chamber of Commerce Mayor