Patience Melnick, Executive Director of Keep Knoxville Beautiful, spoke at Wednesday's Neighborhood Advisory Council and told the neighborhood leaders that her organization was formed in 1978 by the city and county to clean up for the World's Fair.

She described Keep Knoxville Beautiful as an independent affiliate of Keep America Beautiful and said that the focus is litter recycling and beautification toward a greener and more beautiful city.

"You are my prime leaders," she told the meeting.

Melnick reminded everyone of the March 25th South Knoxville Cleanup to be held from 9 a.m. until noon. Volunteers will meet at Duff Park at 4060 Chapman Highway. Participants will

Serve Beer, and Greenway work on Council agenda

The Knoxville City Council meets Tuesday and the agenda calls for a final vote to require evidence of financial responsibility for anyone driving a vehicle out of the city around lot. The council also looks at amending the city codes to permit the sale of all advertised surplus real property. To the change is to state that the property is sold regardless of the estimated value.

The council will also de-
