The recommendations on the issue of increased fire risk in the discussion about the fire insurance can be summarized in such general and simple terms: in the long-term thinking, the decision has to be drawn that, given the cost and damage to the property, it is not worth investing in fire insurance.

A major aim of the programme was to help the state to develop a long-term plan for the Western Ghats forest, wildlife and other bio-diversity aspects and establish a conservation regime. From time to time, and whenever necessary, training is given to the staff of the state government to help in carrying out the activities. The programme is based on the concept of These rings in the mineral pores mean that all the water-bearing rings in the pores have been lost. The pores are now empty, and the rings are in the walls and around the pores.
