

Gas Tax Hike Is Here

By David L. Brown
 The state's gas tax will increase by 10 cents per gallon starting on Monday, July 1, 2013. The increase is part of a package of tax changes approved by the state legislature in May. The new tax rate will be 18.5 cents per gallon, up from 17.5 cents per gallon. The increase is expected to generate an additional $100 million in revenue for the state. The revenue will be used to fund various state programs, including education and transportation. The increase is expected to be implemented on Monday, July 1, 2013. The new tax rate will be 18.5 cents per gallon, up from 17.5 cents per gallon. The increase is expected to generate an additional $100 million in revenue for the state. The revenue will be used to fund various state programs, including education and transportation. The increase is expected to be implemented on Monday, July 1, 2013.

What's floating in Fountain City Lake?

Two men are seen on a boat on Fountain City Lake, one holding a large, round object, possibly a piece of art or a sculpture, being presented to the other man.

Voters interact with candidates at Expo

By David L. Brown
 A political expo was held at the Knoxville Convention Center on Saturday, June 29, 2013. The expo provided an opportunity for voters to interact with candidates for the upcoming election. The expo featured a variety of activities, including candidate forums, Q&A sessions, and a chance for voters to meet and greet with the candidates. The expo was a success, with many voters expressing their interest in the candidates and the issues at hand. The expo was held from 10am to 6pm on Saturday, June 29, 2013. The expo featured a variety of activities, including candidate forums, Q&A sessions, and a chance for voters to meet and greet with the candidates. The expo was a success, with many voters expressing their interest in the candidates and the issues at hand.

Go Vote! Knoxville Aims to Increase Voter Turnout

A group of people are seen at a community meeting, some holding signs or documents, engaged in a discussion or presentation.

By David L. Brown
 The city of Knoxville is launching a campaign to increase voter turnout in the upcoming election. The campaign is called "Go Vote!" and is aimed at encouraging citizens to participate in the democratic process. The campaign will use a variety of methods to reach voters, including door-to-door canvassing, phone banking, and social media outreach. The city is committed to ensuring that every citizen has the opportunity to be heard. The campaign is expected to be implemented over the next several months. The city is committed to ensuring that every citizen has the opportunity to be heard. The campaign is expected to be implemented over the next several months.

By David L. Brown
 The city of Knoxville is launching a campaign to increase voter turnout in the upcoming election. The campaign is called "Go Vote!" and is aimed at encouraging citizens to participate in the democratic process. The campaign will use a variety of methods to reach voters, including door-to-door canvassing, phone banking, and social media outreach. The city is committed to ensuring that every citizen has the opportunity to be heard. The campaign is expected to be implemented over the next several months.

By David L. Brown
 The city of Knoxville is launching a campaign to increase voter turnout in the upcoming election. The campaign is called "Go Vote!" and is aimed at encouraging citizens to participate in the democratic process. The campaign will use a variety of methods to reach voters, including door-to-door canvassing, phone banking, and social media outreach. The city is committed to ensuring that every citizen has the opportunity to be heard. The campaign is expected to be implemented over the next several months.

By David L. Brown
 The city of Knoxville is launching a campaign to increase voter turnout in the upcoming election. The campaign is called "Go Vote!" and is aimed at encouraging citizens to participate in the democratic process. The campaign will use a variety of methods to reach voters, including door-to-door canvassing, phone banking, and social media outreach. The city is committed to ensuring that every citizen has the opportunity to be heard. The campaign is expected to be implemented over the next several months.

By David L. Brown
 The city of Knoxville is launching a campaign to increase voter turnout in the upcoming election. The campaign is called "Go Vote!" and is aimed at encouraging citizens to participate in the democratic process. The campaign will use a variety of methods to reach voters, including door-to-door canvassing, phone banking, and social media outreach. The city is committed to ensuring that every citizen has the opportunity to be heard. The campaign is expected to be implemented over the next several months.

ROBBINS CLEANERS
 Professional Dry Cleaning & Laundry
 888-248-2488

113,000

 Call Today!