

Civil rights leaders honored by overpass signs

By [illegible]

Overpass signs on Interstate 75 in Atlanta will honor the late Martin Luther King Jr. and other civil rights leaders. The Georgia Department of Transportation (DOT) announced the project on Tuesday.

The DOT said the project will cost $1.5 million. The signs will be placed on the overpass that carries I-75 over the Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium. The signs will be placed on the overpass that carries I-75 over the Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium.

The DOT said the project will be completed by the end of the year. The signs will be placed on the overpass that carries I-75 over the Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium.

Atlanta Mayor Andre Spivey (left) and Georgia Governor Nathan Deal (right) stand next to a sign honoring Martin Luther King Jr. on Interstate 75.

The DOT said the project will be completed by the end of the year. The signs will be placed on the overpass that carries I-75 over the Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium.

The DOT said the project will be completed by the end of the year. The signs will be placed on the overpass that carries I-75 over the Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium.

The DOT said the project will be completed by the end of the year. The signs will be placed on the overpass that carries I-75 over the Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium.

Candidate youth center, paintball, and sports location

A candidate for the Georgia House of Representatives has announced a plan to build a youth center, paintball facility, and sports location in Atlanta.

The candidate, who is running for the 11th district, said the facility would be located on the site of the old Atlanta-Fulton County Stadium. The facility would include a youth center, paintball facility, and sports location.

The candidate said the facility would be a great place for young people to go and have fun. The facility would also be a great place for young people to learn about sports and fitness.

The candidate said the facility would be a great place for young people to go and have fun. The facility would also be a great place for young people to learn about sports and fitness.