Although all these are diseases that need to be treated, the American Society of Human Genetics suggests that only the single gene for the form of Huntington's called huntingtin (the huntingtin gene) should be tested. This gene produces a protein that is a large number of the same size, but only the huntingtin protein is known to be involved in the disease. The rest of the protein may have other functions in the body and the way it functions is not yet understood.

When the subjects (females) were asked if they had ever had a sexual relationship with a man, 90% of the women said yes. When asked if they had ever had a sexual relationship with a woman, 10% of the women said yes. When asked if they had ever had a sexual relationship with a man or a woman, 90% of the women said yes.
