

Concord to Wild Blue Yonder

Abby Collins and her parents, Dr. Jason and Mrs. Jenna Collins, are pictured at the Concord Christian School senior's signing with the Air Force Academy volleyball program on March 6. Collins is CCC's first Division I signee and also first-ever military Academy appointee. Please see story in Sports & Recreation, Section C.

Outside auditor terms on county commission agenda next week

By Mike Stealy
stealmike@knoxnews.com

Changing the charter to allow an outside auditor to serve more than eight years and capping the amount of taxpayer-funded per diem of county employees tops the list of agenda items at the Knox County Commission's Work Session next Monday.

The 62 things on the agenda, which includes two meeting requests, has two second and final readings. Pugh CPA is in the sixth year of its second four-year contract with the county to review franchised as an independent outside auditor. Apparently the current commission likes Pugh as well that it is moving to have the charter changed in order to keep them.

The proposal would apparently be revised each year but places no term limits on Pugh or any other outside auditor. The charter change has two quick public hearings and may appear on the ballot in August. Commissioners

Continued on page 4

South Knox Alliance holds Candidate Forum

By Mike Stealy
stealmike@knoxnews.com

Candidates for Knox County Mayor and Sheriff had the opportunity to address citizens last week in a Meet and Greet at Dogwood Elementary.

