

Spangler greets supporters at Corryton campaign stop

By Tom Igo

Tom Spangler, Republican candidate for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton.

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.

Continued on page 2

Tom Spangler took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. Spangler is running for governor. Photo by Tom Igo for the Corryton Community Center.

Old South High School, Supreme Court Building discussed

Continued

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.

Fiscal Difficulties Ahead for School Board

By Tom Igo

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.

Spangler, who is running for governor, took time to greet supporters at a campaign stop in Corryton. He was seen shaking hands with supporters and posing for photos. The campaign stop was held at the Corryton Community Center. Spangler was accompanied by his wife, Mary, and several campaign staff members.