

By Bill Long

Don Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.

Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big. Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.

Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big. Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.

Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big. Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.

Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big. Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.

Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big. Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.

Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big. Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.

Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big. Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.

Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big. Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.

Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big. Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.

Continued on page 2

Don Longenecker meeting with a group of seniors who attended the Longenecker Foundation Community Center. Photo by Bill Longenecker and Bill Longenecker.

Old South High School, Supreme Court Building discussed

By Bill Long
The Daily News

Don Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big. Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.

Fiscal Difficulties Ahead for School Board

By Bill Long

Don Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big. Longenecker has indicated that it is important to have an independent and not a state-run system to ensure that the state is not too big.