

Celebrate Earth Day Saturday at Earthfest

Earthfest is a free community event that will be held on Saturday, April 25, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Knoxville Convention Center. The event is designed to celebrate Earth Day and promote environmental awareness. It will feature a variety of activities, including a recycling demonstration, a composting demonstration, and a water conservation demonstration. There will also be a children's area with games and crafts, and a food area with vegetarian and vegan options. The event is open to everyone, and it is a great opportunity to learn more about how to live more sustainably.

For more information about Earthfest, visit the event's website at www.earthfestknox.com. The event is free and open to everyone. It is a great opportunity to learn more about how to live more sustainably.

Cruisin' for Tom Spangler

Tom Spangler, center, is being searched for by a group of volunteers. The group is looking for him in the area around the van. The van has a sign that says 'SPANGLER'.

Old Supreme Court Hotel taking shape

The old Supreme Court Hotel is being renovated and will be converted into a hotel. The project is being led by the City of Knoxville. The hotel will have 150 rooms and will be located in the downtown area. The project is expected to be completed in 2015.

The hotel will be a mix of historic and modern architecture. It will have a lot of character and will be a great addition to the downtown area. The project is a great example of how to preserve historic architecture while also creating a modern hotel.

Four people are standing together and talking. They are all smiling and appear to be in a good mood.

Twin Creek Road neighbors want the road open

Neighbors along Twin Creek Road are asking the city to open the road to traffic. The road has been closed for a long time and the neighbors are having a hard time getting to work and school. They are asking the city to open the road as soon as possible.

The city is currently working on a plan to open the road. They are trying to make sure that the road is safe for traffic and that the neighbors are not having any problems. The city is hoping to open the road by the end of the year.

A person is working on a road construction project. They are using a shovel to dig a hole in the ground.

Summit Hill bus stop, Fort Dickerson and mayor portraits

The city is installing a new bus stop at Summit Hill. The bus stop will be a modern design and will be a great addition to the area. The city is also installing portraits of Fort Dickerson and the mayor. The portraits will be a great way to honor the city's history and its leaders.

The city is also installing a new set of lights at the intersection of Summit Hill and Fort Dickerson. The lights will be a great way to make the intersection safer for everyone. The city is hoping to complete the project by the end of the year.

For more information about the city's projects, visit the city's website at www.knoxfocus.com. The city is always looking for ways to improve the community and these projects are a great example of that.
