

PHOTO BY KEN LAY

center changes

By Mike Steely
steelym@knoxfocus.com

Busking is a term used for entertaining in public, often with music or other performance, and it is more or less legal in downtown Knoxville. You've probably seen these performers at Market Square, in Happy Holler or other places around town.

The city council discussed limiting loud speaker amplification of those performances on public property and right-of-ways Tuesday and passed, on first reading, to do so.