

Top: Jane Allen Drive honors and pures tribute to a lady who has served Fountain City and the City of Knoxville for over 55 years. That's what Glenn Allen wanted to accomplish when he went through the process of renaming the street last year. Above: Longtime Fountain City residents Glenn and Jane Allen will celebrate their 59th wedding anniversary in November.

By Steve Williams

momeday, when you're driving north on Broadway past Historic Fountain City Lake and the duck pond, slow down as you near Fountain City Wrecker home, said Glenn.

"We had a friendship," said Jane, "She was setting up in ase and I wanted to make it easier for her." Some years later, however, weak from cards, get-well wishes and announcements of wedding and baby showers. She also sends Christmas and Easter cards to "shut-

Just last Thursday morning, while Glenn Rickabaugh, spoke briefly and accepted the honors on behalf of Redmon's family. Larry Silverstein said that Redmon was one of the founders of Community Forum. 'He didn't have to yell to make his point," Silverstein said. The second and final reading to Mayor Madeline Rogero said that permit 4 units per acre to be built on Ferd Hickey Road east of Piney Grove Road was postponed for two weeks on a request from Councilwoman Seema Singh-Perez. The rezoning requested take the property from Agriculture to Planned Residential The council also voted approval of an agreement with Volunteer Ministry Center for $110,000 to provide services to the homeless who utilize the Day Resource Center, Dental Clinic and Bush Family Refuse, It also authorized contracts with Och. Inc. to provide longterm disability and life insurance for city employees. The agreement is for