Editorial:
The Knoxville Police Advisory and Review Committee celebrated its 20th anniversary on September 4, 2014. The committee was established in 1994 by the Knoxville Police Department and the City of Knoxville to provide a forum for community input and oversight of the police department's activities. Over the years, the committee has played a vital role in fostering transparency and accountability within the police department. The anniversary celebration was held at the Police Department's headquarters, where members of the committee, police officers, and community members gathered to reflect on the committee's impact and future goals.

Firm to be evaluating possible new police and fire headquarters

A firm is currently evaluating possible new police and fire headquarters. The project involves identifying suitable locations for the new facilities, conducting site assessments, and preparing preliminary plans. The firm is working closely with local government officials to ensure that the new headquarters will meet the needs of the police and fire departments while also being sensitive to the surrounding community. The evaluation process includes assessing factors such as accessibility, safety, and cost. The firm's findings will be used to inform the final decision on the location and design of the new headquarters.
