

'Pumpkins for Piggies' called for by Hooves & Feathers

By Peter Saville
saville@houstonchronicle.com

What are you going to do with those leftover pumpkins from Halloween?

Rather than trashing them, why not donate them to Hooves & Feathers Farm Animals Humane Society? The non-profit organization is looking for their pigs and those pigs love to eat pumpkins which are a good source of vitamins and minerals for them.

Over-ripe pumpkins can be taken to the Hooves & Feathers farm on 2844 Cunningham Road through November 15 or you can drop off the pumpkins at Central Filing Station at 800 North Central Street on November 1 at 11 a.m.

Pigs love pumpkins and would love you to donate leftover Halloween pumpkins, squash and butternut squash to Hooves & Feathers farm on 2844 Cunningham Road through November 15 or you can drop off the pumpkins at Central Filing Station at 800 North Central Street on November 1 at 11 a.m.

Commission deals with contract for video jail visitation

By Peter Saville

At their meeting on Monday, Oct. 25 the Aliso Viejo City Commission dealt with video visitation at the jail and considered discussing the proposed permanent bond settlement.

During the public forum four people spoke in favor of either eliminating or reducing the use of video visitation and allowing in person visitation of prisoners. The commission took no action on their requests. However, in a related matter, the commission approved amending the contract with Secure Technologies, the company which provides the facilities for video visitation. The amendment includes a one-time cost of development payment of $250,000 to the county, provides for commission percentage changes and deals with consulting software.

In an effort to have the permanent bond paid out through the state, the evening's agenda was controversial. During the public forum four attorneys showed up on behalf of the 400 people who would be affected by the bondsmen, argued the case and was placed on the evening's agenda. This litigation has to stay. Saville asserted. He said the court needs