Jacobs calls special session on pension suit

Gov. Robert H. Jacobs has called a special session of the General Assembly to discuss a lawsuit filed by the state's pensioners. The lawsuit, filed in federal court, alleges that the state's pension plan is unconstitutional. Jacobs said that the state has a duty to provide for the pensioners and that the lawsuit is a serious challenge to the state's financial future. The special session will be held on October 15, 2010.
