

Sharing Christmas Memories

By Mike Grady
OrangeburgPost-Courier

For thousands of people, the season of Christmas is a time to share with family and friends. The annual "open house" office parties, sponsored by business and church groups, are held both as a festive way to spend time with old friends and as a way to share with new ones.

John Hogg is a member of a support group for people in the community who have been diagnosed with HIV. He has been diagnosed with HIV and has been in a support group for several years.

John Hogg is a member of a support group for people in the community who have been diagnosed with HIV. He has been diagnosed with HIV and has been in a support group for several years.

John Hogg is a member of a support group for people in the community who have been diagnosed with HIV. He has been diagnosed with HIV and has been in a support group for several years.

John Hogg is a member of a support group for people in the community who have been diagnosed with HIV. He has been diagnosed with HIV and has been in a support group for several years.

John Hogg is a member of a support group for people in the community who have been diagnosed with HIV. He has been diagnosed with HIV and has been in a support group for several years.

Is the county's pension lawsuit finally over?

By Mike Grady
OrangeburgPost-Courier

Orangeburg County has agreed to a settlement to settle its lawsuit against the county's pension fund. The settlement will require the county to pay the pension fund $100,000 over the next five years. The settlement will also require the county to pay the pension fund $100,000 over the next five years.

Orangeburg County has agreed to a settlement to settle its lawsuit against the county's pension fund. The settlement will require the county to pay the pension fund $100,000 over the next five years. The settlement will also require the county to pay the pension fund $100,000 over the next five years.

Orangeburg County has agreed to a settlement to settle its lawsuit against the county's pension fund. The settlement will require the county to pay the pension fund $100,000 over the next five years. The settlement will also require the county to pay the pension fund $100,000 over the next five years.

Orangeburg County has agreed to a settlement to settle its lawsuit against the county's pension fund.