City may extend ban
of electric scooters

The Knoxville City Council is being asked by the City Law Department to extend a moratorium on electric scooter rentals downtown until a pilot program has been developed. The first moratorium was passed in September and the law department wants another 90-day prohibition to study the issue and draft an ordinance that might permit the scooters.

The initial prohibition expires and the new 90 day moratorium would begin February 9 and extend until August 8.
