The second Tom Spangler Golf Classic "doubled" in size and the weather Friday at Three Ridges Golf Course to benefit first-year Knox County Sheriff Spangler couldn't have been better.

Spangler's first tournament was in October of 2017 at Gettysville Country Club and had one afternoon shotgun start. That was prior to his election as Knox County Sheriff.

"We've got some campaign debts to fulfill and we want to just get things ready."

"Obviously, I plan on wanting to run again with things that are going on, and this way we are able to get those finances in hand early."

Sheriff Spangler said what made his fundraising tournament special was the turnout.

"The support that people come out, that they have that much faith in me to do the job that we are doing," he said. "And it's able to do that. But I have a lot of good people that make my job a lot easier."

Sheriff Spangler emphasized he was not responsible for the weather.

"No sir," he chuckled. "It's been a glorious day and we are blessed."

He didn't sugarcoat his team's play either in the best-ball event.

"We played. That's all I can say. We had a good time. I was with my family."

Barrier Shelter" for homeless people there will involve retrofitting the building with restroom facilities for use during daytime hours.

The Behavioral Health Urgent Care Center may get $560,000 in city funds in an amendment of a tri-party service contract with Knox County and Helen Ross McNabb Center. The resolution calls for services to be provided at other locations on an as-needed basis and conduct individual assessments at the Roger D. Wilson Detention Facility.

An agreement with Bell & Associates Construction will also be considered for $6.4 million for the Jackson Avenue Ramp Construction Project.

Three separate grant applications may get approval with the federal and state governments for funding portions of Knox Area Transit. That includes $3.3 million request to the state to fund the system in 2020.
