

Complaints about recycling center create sparks at council meeting

By David L. Johnson
 The city council Tuesday night approved a resolution to investigate complaints about the city's recycling center, which has been the subject of numerous complaints from residents in the area.

The resolution, passed by a 7-2 vote, directs the city manager to conduct an investigation into the complaints and report back to the council by the end of the month.

The complaints, which have been received from residents in the area, include concerns about odors, noise, and the appearance of the facility. The city manager has already taken steps to address some of these concerns, but the council wants to ensure that all issues are thoroughly investigated.

The city manager, who is currently on leave, will be replaced by the city's deputy manager during the investigation. The council also expressed its support for the city's efforts to improve the recycling center and ensure that it meets the needs of the community.

Proposed $100 fee for entering the county? Council team C opposition required

By David L. Johnson
 The city council Tuesday night approved a resolution to oppose a proposed $100 fee for entering the county, which would be levied on all vehicles entering the county from out of state.

The resolution, passed by a 7-2 vote, directs the city manager to oppose the fee and to work with the county to find a more equitable solution. The city manager has already expressed his opposition to the fee, but the council wants to ensure that the city's position is clearly stated.

The proposed fee, which would be levied on all vehicles entering the county from out of state, is a significant increase over the current fee of $50. The city manager has argued that the fee is unfair and that it would place a burden on residents who are not responsible for the cost of the road.

The council also expressed its support for the city's efforts to improve the road and ensure that it meets the needs of the community. The city manager has already taken steps to improve the road, but the council wants to ensure that all issues are thoroughly investigated.

City officials and community members gathered for a ribbon-cutting ceremony at World's Fair Park Performance Lawn.

Ceremony marks the re-opening of World's Fair Park Performance Lawn

By David L. Johnson
 A ribbon-cutting ceremony Tuesday marked the re-opening of the World's Fair Park Performance Lawn, which had been closed for several months due to construction.

The ceremony, which was held in the presence of city officials and community members, was a celebratory occasion. The city manager, who is currently on leave, was represented by the city's deputy manager.

The lawn, which is located in the heart of the city, has been a popular destination for residents and visitors alike. It has been used for a variety of events, including concerts, festivals, and community gatherings. The city manager has expressed his pride in the lawn and his commitment to ensuring that it remains a vibrant and active part of the city.

Knox County Mayor Glenn Jacobs: Jobs are first and foremost

By David L. Johnson
 Knox County Mayor Glenn Jacobs Tuesday said that jobs are the top priority for the county and that he is committed to creating a strong economic future for the community.

Mayor Jacobs, who is currently on leave, has been a vocal proponent of job creation and economic development. He has led the county in a variety of initiatives, including the creation of the Knox County Economic Development Authority and the establishment of the Knox County Innovation Center.

Mayor Jacobs has expressed his confidence in the county's future and his belief that the county has the resources and talent to succeed. He has also expressed his support for the city's efforts to improve the city and ensure that it meets the needs of the community.
