

Neighborhood Advisory Council members prepare to vote for the early voting location at the Belmont Hall.

Voices raised at Neighborhood Advisory Council meeting

By Mike Hanks
Community Editor

"I want the council elected" was the first word out of the mouth of the first speaker, who introduced the Neighborhood Advisory Council to the community. The council is a neighborhood advisory body that will advise the Knox County Board of Commissioners on issues that affect the community. It will also be responsible for the early voting location.

The first speaker was the mayor of the city, who said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community. He also said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community.

The first speaker was the mayor of the city, who said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community. He also said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community.

The first speaker was the mayor of the city, who said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community. He also said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community.

Neighborhood Advisory Council members speak at the Neighborhood Advisory Council meeting at the Belmont Hall.

The first speaker was the mayor of the city, who said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community. He also said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community.

The first speaker was the mayor of the city, who said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community. He also said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community.

The first speaker was the mayor of the city, who said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community. He also said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community.

The first speaker was the mayor of the city, who said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community. He also said that the council is a very important body that will advise the board of commissioners on issues that affect the community.

Knox County Schools Introduces Aspiring Principal Participants for 2019-20

By Mike Hanks

The Knox County Schools Board of Education has announced the start of the Aspiring Principal Program for the 2019-2020 school year.

The program is designed to help aspiring principals gain the experience and knowledge needed to become a principal. It will include a series of workshops, seminars, and field experiences.

The program is designed to help aspiring principals gain the experience and knowledge needed to become a principal. It will include a series of workshops, seminars, and field experiences.

The program is designed to help aspiring principals gain the experience and knowledge needed to become a principal. It will include a series of workshops, seminars, and field experiences.