Knoxville mayoral candidate Eddie Mannis prepares to enter the early voting facilities at New Harvest Park.

Knox County Election Commission Chairman Hall Bell and the South precinct had 284 people vote.

Rodgers said the five early voting precincts will have extended hours Tuesday.

Any registered city voter may vote at any of the early voting locations.

The primary election date is Tuesday, August 27.

Voices raised at Neighborhood Advisory Council meeting

"Overheated conversations" may be the best way to describe the recurring topics towards the Office of Neighborhoods Best Practices. The proposed policy of neighborhood recognition was the topic of the Neighborhood Advisory Council's meeting Wednesday and drew some pointed opposition from the audience.

The climate was mentioned during the meeting by Neighborhood Coordinator Debbie Drake as she described the purpose of categorizing the various neighborhood organizations. She said the initiative is "still in a phase of planning" and led a discussion of council members about the proposal.

Chair Terry Hill started the Wednesday, August 14, 2019 meeting promptly at 5:30 p.m. Eight out of nine appointed officers were present for the meeting. Fourth District Representative Virginia Babb was absent.

Hill began by announcing that there would be a called meeting at 4:30 p.m. on September 4, 2019, before the regularly scheduled workshop where elections will take place. Next, Hill asked for changes to the agenda and there were none. Hill then asked for a motion to approve the night's agenda and a motion was made by Third District Representative Tony Norman and seconded by Fifth District Representative and Vice Chair Susan Horn. The agenda was approved.

Next, Hill began special recognition of Rebecca Fisher, a two-spot High School graduate. Fisher was
