

Mayor-elect Eddie Mannis stands before his campaign sign after being sworn in as the 10th mayor of the city. Mannis, 48, is the youngest mayor ever elected in the city's history.

Reorganization, Ancient Village at commission meeting

By [Name]

The city council met Monday night to discuss the reorganization of the city government. The council also discussed the city's budget for the next fiscal year. The council is expected to make a decision on the reorganization by the end of the month.

The city council met Monday night to discuss the reorganization of the city government. The council also discussed the city's budget for the next fiscal year. The council is expected to make a decision on the reorganization by the end of the month.

Council talks pay raise for city judge, sign ordinance, Design Center funds

By [Name]

The city council met Monday night to discuss the reorganization of the city government. The council also discussed the city's budget for the next fiscal year. The council is expected to make a decision on the reorganization by the end of the month.

City Council members discuss the city's budget for the next fiscal year. The council is expected to make a decision on the budget by the end of the month.

The city council met Monday night to discuss the reorganization of the city government. The council also discussed the city's budget for the next fiscal year. The council is expected to make a decision on the reorganization by the end of the month.

The city council met Monday night to discuss the reorganization of the city government. The council also discussed the city's budget for the next fiscal year. The council is expected to make a decision on the reorganization by the end of the month.

Primary by the numbers

By [Name]

The city council met Monday night to discuss the reorganization of the city government. The council also discussed the city's budget for the next fiscal year. The council is expected to make a decision on the reorganization by the end of the month.

The city council met Monday night to discuss the reorganization of the city government. The council also discussed the city's budget for the next fiscal year. The council is expected to make a decision on the reorganization by the end of the month.