*HUGE AUCTION FRIDAY, Oct. 18 at 6PM

Fountain City Auction (865)474-9931 dobor 14, 2019

Mannis campaign officially opens East Knoxville office ite for mayor Eddie Mannis stepped into Democratic East Knowille last eek to officially open his campaign office at 900 East Hill Avenue where mmissioner Sam McKenzie who aid that Thomas "Tank" Strickland future of East Knoxville and Downtown Knowille. The HonorAir founder has a history of progressive positions and support of community projects. He said he has served on the Zoo Knoxville board for eight years and added, "There is so much potential in East Knowille, so much opportunity in

I want to be intentional with our smart decisions and I'll listen to what you say and take it into consider-ation," Mannis said, adding, "When we decide we'll do it collectively."

promise I will do that," he said.

Following the opening of the can paign office the well-wishers dired restaurant. Mannis then headed out munity Organization for a discussion

Memory of Coach Moore will live on in Carter football chool football often go until they are gone ear the head coach, the face and voice of their team

Most assistants are satis ied with the role they have vorking behind the scenes with the players. They are the nuts and bolts of the esistant coach at Carter ligh for 21 years until con olications from diabetes Sept. 18. The 64-year-old Engineering Associate at Although his death was he Carter family, it seems fittinghis last public appear ince was on the football Sold at Carter in the Hor ets' Week 2 game Aug. 30 "Coach Moore was strug ing that night," recalled wel Brock, Carter's ath on the sideline at its Oct. 3 game with visiting Carter, a very nice gesture in remembrance of the Carter assistant coach who passed away Sept. 18. Down 21-0 after three ters, Carter came back to win 27-21 in ove in Week 5 and three days second quarter of the game tal and he'd been in it ever es since the late 1990s.

He related with the kids and was a holdover for a when changes occurred said Brock. Moore worked on the staffs of current head coach Scott Meadown, inter im head coach Vic Wharton Derek Witt, Jeff McMillan Heath Woods, Kevin Catlett and Bobby Kimball Carter Middle School head in 1998.

coaching in the Baby Roadthe mid-1980s and also sched the Alice Bell midget team and Austin-East's middle school team on the recreation level

"Clyde Moore was the epitome of a Hornet and a Homet for Life," said Carter Principal Angle Messer on the night Moore was Planning Commission approves zoning change for supportive housing facility ocus reported on a Sept. 23 public-input meeting at the Knoxville Area Urban League about the proposed construction of a supportive housing facility After Director of Commu-

Wade laid out the plan a plot of land adjacent to Caswell Park would be eded free to the Volun teer Ministry Center, who uld then build and run the facility - attendees ere free to voice their questions and comments free-wheeling esponse was, to say the least, vocal and passion-ate. Some were in favor of the facility; more weren't. The animus of those opposed hinged primarily on developing land that was - and should stay - a part of Caswell Park

At its monthly meeting on Thur, Oct 10, Knoxville-Knox Co. Planning took the matter. At vas whether to change zoning designation from OS-2 (Park and Open Space) to RP-1 (Planned Residential). The original equest was for designa-RP-3, which would have allowed a higher density of housing units per of Knoxville was represent ed by Bill Lyons, Chief Policy Officer to Mayor Madeline Rogero. Lyons was speak ing on behalf of Wade, who s unable to attend lots on Fifth Avenue adja-cent to Caswell Park," he said. 'The public park was created in 1916 and update ed with ball fields in 2002 At that time, the three-lot parcel was purchased for drainage and construc tion of an outfield fence city has mowed the lots a responsible prop erty owner. A number of ars ago this was place in open apace zoning, ac we're dealing with a p ent open-space situation opment Department was approached by VMC as a potential site for permaent supportive housing These supportive housing projects serve the needlest has placed a high priority and the challenge of home the intersection of both of is very well suited for the ventual use of permaner supportive housing. It has a history of residential use and underuse prior to the time of the purchase. It's within a block of a major > e opposition were match g T-shirts. Their spokes person was Dr. of the Parkridge Communi > bus line. The cost of the land won't be an issue

Twenty or so members of (since the city owns it)."

Expo Center added as early voting place way Wednesday and runs through October 31st. voters to select them for four seats on city council plus voters will be electing

The Expo Grande Event Center, just off Clinton Highway, has been added to the early polling places starting the last four days of early a.m. until 7 p.m.

around town include: City-County Building at 400 Street, Downtown West Shopping Center, Unit The Love Kitchen at 2418 Martin Luther King Jr., Avenue; New Harvest Park at 4774 New Harvest

Church at 6513 Chapmar

VARNER

Charles G Seviers Blvd - Clint 865.457.0704

CANTRELL'S HEAT & AIR SALES • SERVICE • MAINTENANCE

Family Business Serving You Since 1992 5715 Old Tazewell Pike

865-687-2520