

PHOTO BY JEFFREY HARRIS FOR THE STAR

On Nov. 29, members of the public take their first look at three unique designs from the architects of RMA who created the science museum concepts.

Three Concept Plans Proposed at Science Museum Meeting

By Amy Box Felthouser

More than forty people convened and COO Kelly Hadden walked the attendees through the details of each

Foundation, City Councilmen George Wallace and Andrew Roberts, and

by Mike Stanley
Staff Writer
david@khou.com

When the Knox County Retirement and Pension Board met last week, the class action lawsuit against Knox County was only mentioned once.

Pension Board Director Jennifer Schepeler, in giving her report and setting up meeting dates for 2000, asked Attorney John Owings if the meetings should be longer "with the report going forward in regards to the lawsuit."

"Do you see us having meetings in less than an hour?" she asked. Owings replied "No."

After an executive session of the pension board two months ago, Owings asked for and received permission to represent the pension board to intercede in a county lawsuit. The pension board is not mentioned in the lawsuit but it is a result of actions by that board in granting vacation days in calculating retirement for some Knox County Sheriff Department employees.

The pension board then voted to move their monthly meetings from 2:30 to 3 p.m. The meetings are held in Room 640 in the City-County Building.

Commissioner Hugh Hutton gave an Investment Committee report noting that