the corresponding conditions in the case of $\mathcal{H}_1$ and $\mathcal{H}_2$ are satisfied. The following theorem summarizes the results.

These findings suggest that the use of the new tool will be most effective when it is used in conjunction with other tools and techniques. The use of the tool in conjunction with other tools and techniques will be most effective when it is used in conjunction with other tools and techniques.

These findings are consistent with previous research on organizational commitment. For example, a meta-analysis by Allen and Meyer (1990) found that organizational commitment is positively related to job performance. Similarly, a study by Allen and Meyer (1993) found that organizational commitment is positively related to organizational citizenship behavior. These findings suggest that organizational commitment is an important factor in explaining the relationship between organizational identity and organizational performance.
