

Members of the Knoxville Songwriters Association helped launch Tennessee Songwriters Week with a jam session at the local Third Street Center on 1/15 in Sevier. (front row) are Laura Ellis and David Johnston. (standing from left) are Gary Ellis, Mike Johnston, Mike Hinkle, David Johnston and Tim Dwyer.

Knoxville Songwriters Help Launch Tennessee Songwriters Week

Members of the Knoxville Songwriters Association helped launch Tennessee Songwriters Week by giving a jam session to local radio at the Third Street Center on 1/15 in Sevier.

Tennessee Songwriters Week is a week-long celebration of the music industry in Tennessee.

at the Knoxville Songwriters Association. And, the event is a great opportunity for songwriters to get their music heard.

The event is a great opportunity for songwriters to get their music heard. The event is a great opportunity for songwriters to get their music heard.

Current members of the group are in the process of writing new music. The group is in the process of writing new music.

The group is in the process of writing new music. The group is in the process of writing new music.

David Johnston is a member of the group. He is a member of the group. He is a member of the group.

He is a member of the group. He is a member of the group. He is a member of the group.

TVA Tower move, Andrew Johnson sale pass without comment

By Mike Hinkle
EastTennessean.com

The fight is apparently over between members of the Andrew Johnson Foundation and moving the old site administration to a new location.

The fight is apparently over between members of the Andrew Johnson Foundation and moving the old site administration to a new location. The fight is apparently over between members of the Andrew Johnson Foundation and moving the old site administration to a new location.

The fight is apparently over between members of the Andrew Johnson Foundation and moving the old site administration to a new location. The fight is apparently over between members of the Andrew Johnson Foundation and moving the old site administration to a new location.

The fight is apparently over between members of the Andrew Johnson Foundation and moving the old site administration to a new location. The fight is apparently over between members of the Andrew Johnson Foundation and moving the old site administration to a new location.

The fight is apparently over between members of the Andrew Johnson Foundation and moving the old site administration to a new location. The fight is apparently over between members of the Andrew Johnson Foundation and moving the old site administration to a new location.