

stepped out" before Norwood parents (Easter Eggs posted on their windows ... a post by a Norwood woman caught on just and spread like wildfire on the internet. (Photo courtesy of Ashley Lyons)

Special Easter egg hunt in Norwood goes viral

By Ashley Lyons
Norwood
https://www.norwood.com

Something special happened last week in the Norwood neighborhood. Resident Ashley Lyons was hammering the back of a giant Easter Egg hunt. She took to the Norwood website with a suggestion.

"I've been working in retail all day. Just came in and looking up on news. Why would you want to have services, outdoor activities, or gather up? Why would you not have congregation safety? I just don't understand if you can have church at home" she posted.

"In Norwood, I am wondering if anyone would be interested in having an Egg in their window for kids to hunt while walking or riding our neighborhood" she asked.

Norwood's Easter Week went on with everyone having to stay at home while staying safe. Although this would give parents and kids something to do. We have so many wonderful neighbors but walking their paths and with kids it would be fun," Lyons continued in the post she titled "Egg Hunt - Norwood with Social Distancing."

The idea caught on quickly and Lyons heard from Lauren Rodgers, Ryan Thomas and Brenda Crawford of Cumberland School and Margie Morris of West Haven Village. Tracy Cohen of _____
(Continued on page 2)

Ashley Phillips of Norwood decorated her front window with Easter Egg pictures as children walking by can get them. Many other residents did the same and the idea caught on.

the gallery of faces of the superintendents, board members, and staff.

After a moment of silence and the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag, Superintendent Adams relayed the state $100 will meet Thursday, April 9, to address student credit, grades, attendance and students who are affecting other students directly. Since the House County Board receives the state information from this meeting, it will be relayed to the county meetings.

"Thanks to all those watching at home ... Norwood's efforts are being made to meet the physical needs of our students through programs as we find the solution plan and ... our HCLB home program," said them. She expressed that paper notices are available for kindergarten through eighth-grade students whose homes lack a computer.

(Continued on page 2)

Davis selected as next

Council postpones creation of Human Resources