

eff-force, code of conduct policies

Today, eight independent school districts are in a lawsuit against the State Board of Education for failing to enforce its code of conduct policies. The lawsuit, filed in federal court, alleges that the board's policies are unconstitutional and violate the state constitution.

The lawsuit is part of a larger effort to reform the state's education system. It is one of several lawsuits filed by parents and teachers against the state board of education. The lawsuit alleges that the board's policies are unconstitutional and violate the state constitution.

The lawsuit is part of a larger effort to reform the state's education system. It is one of several lawsuits filed by parents and teachers against the state board of education. The lawsuit alleges that the board's policies are unconstitutional and violate the state constitution.

The lawsuit is part of a larger effort to reform the state's education system. It is one of several lawsuits filed by parents and teachers against the state board of education. The lawsuit alleges that the board's policies are unconstitutional and violate the state constitution.

Continued on page 2

Girls take a variety of programs and activities including ship building projects, string ornaments and other arts and crafts projects.

New Ijams Nature Center programs offer fun for all ages

New Ijams Nature Center has a variety of programs for all ages. The center offers a variety of programs for all ages, including nature walks, bird watching, and more.

The center offers a variety of programs for all ages, including nature walks, bird watching, and more.

The center offers a variety of programs for all ages, including nature walks, bird watching, and more.

The center offers a variety of programs for all ages, including nature walks, bird watching, and more.

The center offers a variety of programs for all ages, including nature walks, bird watching, and more.

The center offers a variety of programs for all ages, including nature walks, bird watching, and more.

The center offers a variety of programs for all ages, including nature walks, bird watching, and more.

Continued on page 2

Commission before Charter Review Committee

By Mike Henry
Special to The News-Tribune

The state's new Charter Commission has been set up to review the state's charter schools and to recommend changes to the state's charter laws.

The commission will be made up of representatives from the state's charter schools, the state's public schools, and the state's legislature. The commission will be charged with the task of reviewing the state's charter laws and recommending changes to the state's charter laws.

The commission will be charged with the task of reviewing the state's charter laws and recommending changes to the state's charter laws.

The commission will be charged with the task of reviewing the state's charter laws and recommending changes to the state's charter laws.

The commission will be charged with the task of reviewing the state's charter laws and recommending changes to the state's charter laws.

Continued on page 2

Work session questions new northwest school