David Booth makes it over to the state capital to get to work for the citizens of this county, announcing that these achievements were a real success.

"I am the superior, and I will not let go to work for the people of this county," said Booth, who defeated independent candidate, Stephen Hines, to retain the Nevada State Judicial Office in Clark County, Las Vegas. It is the first time in the history of the county that a Republican has won the office.

"I'm looking forward to working for the people of this county and for the state capital," said Booth.

Booth worked for Hines for the last three years, and will now be working for the Nevada State Judicial Office.

"I am a member of the Nevada State Bar and I am proud to be a member of the Nevada State Bar," said Booth.
