

I am very thankful for what they've done to make this possible when we opened an on-site school weeks ago today. We planned to announce that we will offer both virtual and in-person learning for the spring semester, starting on January 12."

Thomas also noted that families that opt to keep their current learning mode will not have to make any changes with the district.

"We know also want to stay in the classroom or stay in virtual. They do not have to do anything," Thomas said. "If you want to move from virtual to the classroom or if you want to move from the classroom to virtual, you will have a window to decide between Oct. 28 and Nov. 6."

"I would encourage families and parents to start thinking about it now and not wait until Nov. 6. We will have more details available on our website soon."

Thomas also requested that parents and families be patient as they await responses from their children's teachers.

"I appreciate the involvement of our parents and families, but

Members of the induction for 2020 include (left row, L-R) Bryce Austin, Gaby Humphrey, Ashley Carroll, (middle) Scott Carter, (bottom) Mike Bitts, Larry Brady and Frank Adams.

Halls High Road to Fame's Class of 2020

By Steve Williams

The second class of the Halls High induction Road to Fame may not have the quantity of the inaugural 2019 class, but it has the quality.

The seven inductees of the 2020 class will be announced and presented in a ceremony prior to Halls' homecoming game against South-Atoka Friday night.

Let's meet quality. The school's

During his 32-year career at Halls, from 1988 until 2020, Adams was a physical education teacher and head football coach, assistant principal and athletic director, and head principal.

Other 2020 inductees are Bruce Adams, Randy Carroll, Scott Carter, Gaby Humphrey, Wesley Hiss and Larry Brady.

"I think they are an exception of all the 12 inductees we had in