

Two Jacobs officials on paid leave in theft investigation

Two Jacobs officials on paid leave in theft investigation

By [Name] [Date]

Two Jacobs officials are on paid leave in a theft investigation, according to a source familiar with the matter. The source, who has provided information to the press in the past, said the two officials are on leave until further notice. The source also said that the investigation is ongoing and that the company is cooperating with law enforcement. The source did not provide any further details about the investigation or the individuals involved.

The source said that the two officials are on leave until further notice. The source also said that the investigation is ongoing and that the company is cooperating with law enforcement. The source did not provide any further details about the investigation or the individuals involved.

The source said that the two officials are on leave until further notice. The source also said that the investigation is ongoing and that the company is cooperating with law enforcement. The source did not provide any further details about the investigation or the individuals involved.

The source said that the two officials are on leave until further notice. The source also said that the investigation is ongoing and that the company is cooperating with law enforcement. The source did not provide any further details about the investigation or the individuals involved.

The source said that the two officials are on leave until further notice. The source also said that the investigation is ongoing and that the company is cooperating with law enforcement. The source did not provide any further details about the investigation or the individuals involved.

The source said that the two officials are on leave until further notice. The source also said that the investigation is ongoing and that the company is cooperating with law enforcement. The source did not provide any further details about the investigation or the individuals involved.

The source said that the two officials are on leave until further notice. The source also said that the investigation is ongoing and that the company is cooperating with law enforcement. The source did not provide any further details about the investigation or the individuals involved.

The source said that the two officials are on leave until further notice. The source also said that the investigation is ongoing and that the company is cooperating with law enforcement. The source did not provide any further details about the investigation or the individuals involved.